The Class of 1967 is pleased to dedicate its yearbook to Dr. Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, Dean of Faculty at Cape Cod Community College.

Dr. Kalijarvi came to us from a long and outstanding career in education and government, and he has given generously of the wisdom which comes from such experience.

Student Life

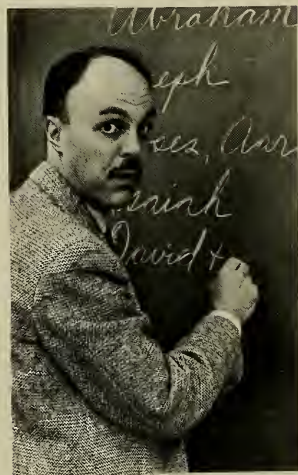

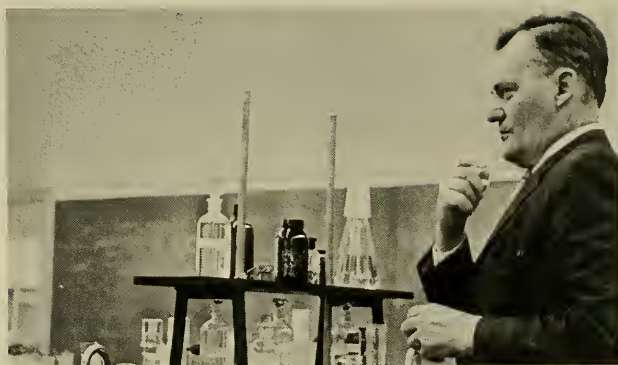

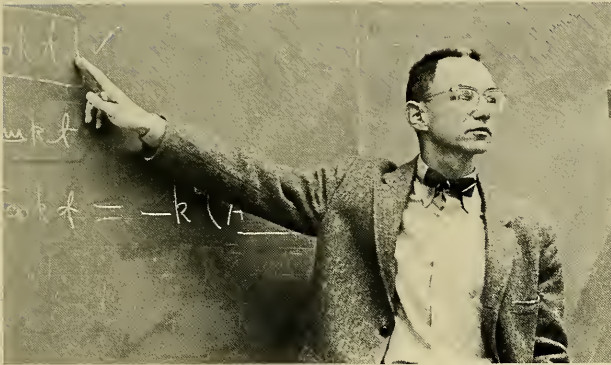

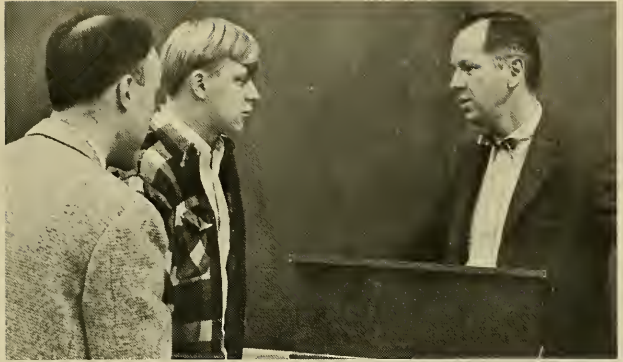

A formal welcome
awaited students

And so did an informal one!

The classroom is an arena in miniature where
one exercises . . .
the mind!

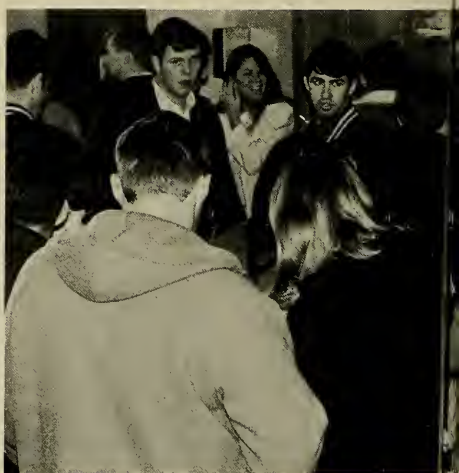

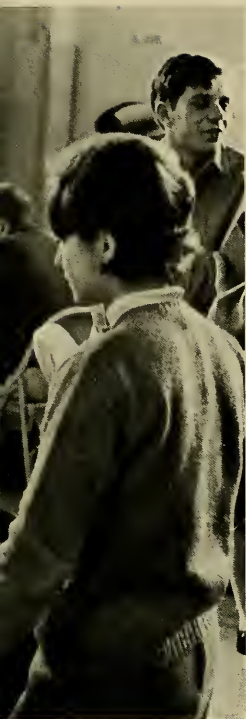

Studying or looking for books, the library is a haven for inquisitive minds.

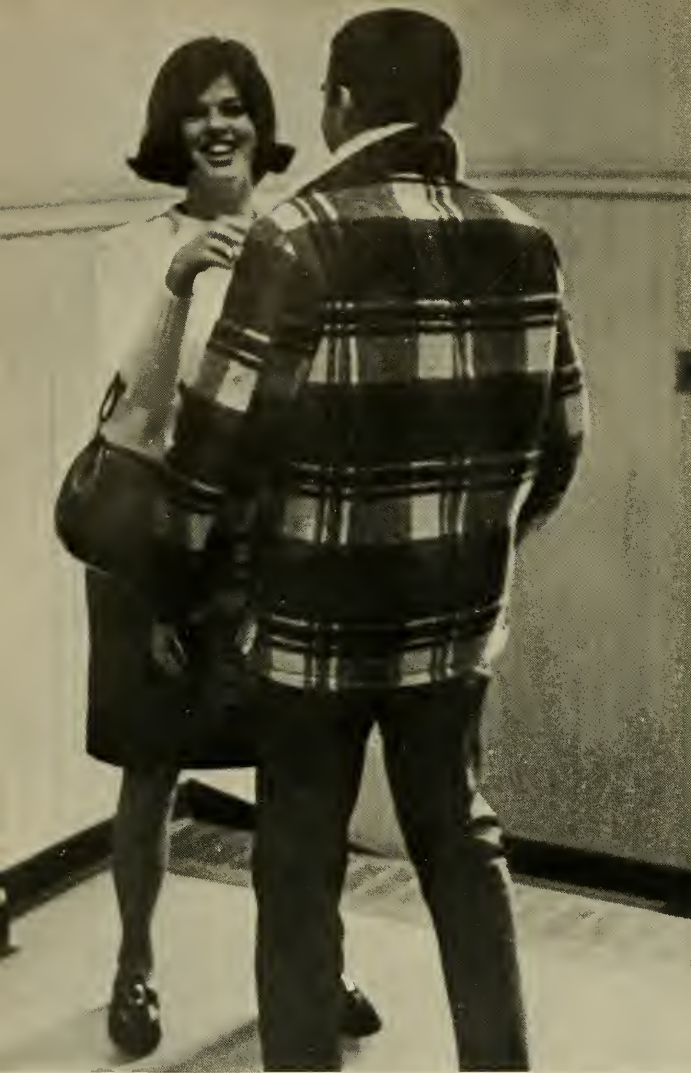

During Christmas vacation what was once the college lounge became a new addition to the library. The cushioned chairs and sofas of the fourth floor extension certainly make studying a more comfortable undertaking—if you don't fall asleep!

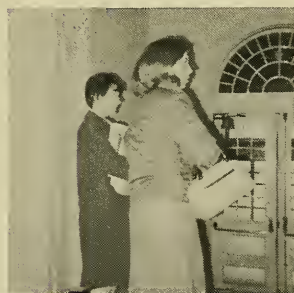

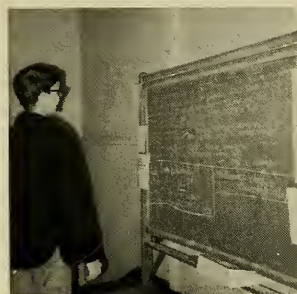

In the Commons, CCCC
stands for cokes, cards,
cigarettes, and
characters.

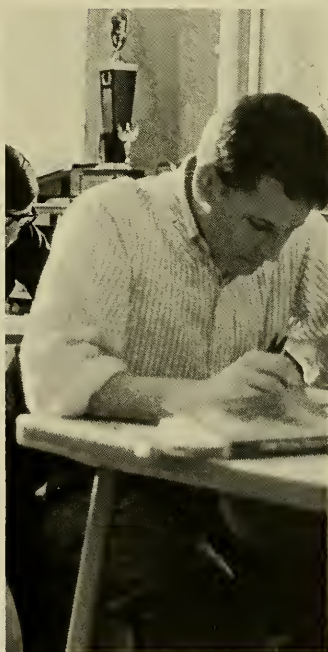

You know, if you can tear yourself away from the notices and bulletin boards, you may meet some very interesting people in the corridors!

In the lives of the students, the ritual of study
takes many forms.

Christmas Sing and Tea—
Some were too enraptured to sing, and some were singing too earnestly to be enraptured.

The comforts of "home"
are many and varied, but student life wouldn't be the same without them.

Sports

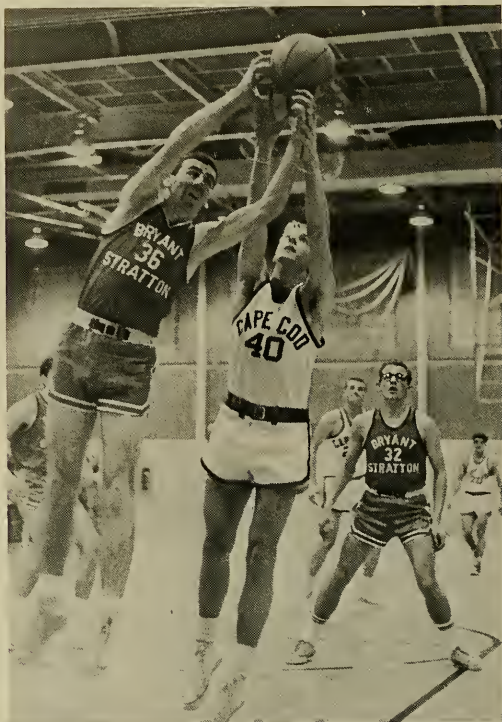

Across South Street in the State Armory one will find students letting off steam after a session with the books. Frustrations disappear in an informal game of basketball or ping-pong. Others are content to kibitz from the side-lines or allow themselves the luxury of a satisfying stretch.

The Helmsmen

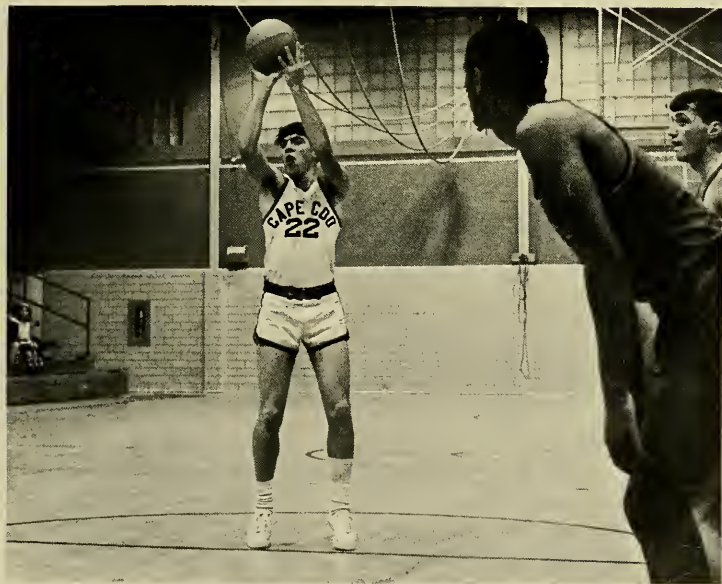

The pride of our young school is the fine varsity basketball team, The Helmsmen. Ably coached by Tom Clark and urged on by our spirited cheerleaders, the team did an extremely creditable job in its second year of league play, emerging as league champions in the tournament play-offs.
